this book compares the cultures of the different social groups living in the low countries in the early middle ages clergy nobility peasants and townsmen greatly varied in their attitudes to labor property violence and the handling and showing of emotions kanzel explores how these social groups looked at themselves as a group and how they looked at the other groups image and self image could differ radically the results of this research are specified and tested in four case studies on the interaction between group cultures focusing respectively on the influence of oral and written traditions on a literary work rituals as a means of conflict management in weakly centralized societies stories as an expression of an urban group mentality and beliefs on death and the afterlife this book contains twelve original contributions from leading epistemologists which connect the debate over epistemic dilemmas with fundamental issues in contemporary epistemology in an epistemic dilemma any doxastic response of an agent will violate an epistemic requirement recently there has been a surge of interest in epistemic dilemmas however few attempts have been made to systematically connect epistemic dilemmas to a wider range of issues in epistemology and normative theorizing the present volume begins to fill this lacuna some of its contributions explore new responses to epistemic dilemmas and others present novel epistemic dilemmas which connect in interesting ways to other areas of epistemology several contributions discuss links between epistemic dilemmas and the nature of epistemic and practical reasons investigate the nature of evidence or of doxastic attitudes or explore dilemmas arising in collective or oppressive contexts epistemic dilemmas and epistemic normativity will be of interest to scholars and graduate students working in epistemology ethics and social philosophy the present publication of reports and discussions stems from the fourth session of the hague zagreb colloquium held at eernewoude in the netherlands the preceding three sessions were held at Stubice Toplice in Yugoslavia 1974 Zeist in the Netherlands 1976 and again in Yugoslavia at Opatija 1978 the fourth session was originally planned for May 1980 on the eve of the meeting the then president of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia the late Marshall J. B. Tito passed away on hearing the news of the Marshall's death the organizing committee of the Hague Zagreb Colloquium immediately decided that the session should not then be held the postponement lasted in fact a whole year the fourth session was convened at Eernewoude in May 1981 for the Eernewoude session the formula that had produced such excellent results in the previous conferences was maintained four topics of international trade law were thoroughly discussed on the basis of reports submitted by scholars from the various legal systems represented at the conference apart from the Yugoslav and Dutch participants scholars from the United Kingdom the Federal Republic of Germany Belgium and Norway took part in the discussions be it in the capacity of reporter of chairman or as expert in the field covered by the colloquium the law of international trade a student competition had again been organised and the members of the winning teams from Yugoslavia and from the Netherlands were among the participants
